MESSAGE FROM LEADERSHIP

Friends,

There is something special about the back-to-school season. It is a time of fresh starts, renewed purpose, and possibility. For Folds of Honor recipients, it is also the next step toward a future shaped by the sacrifice of their military service member or first responder. And it's made possible by patriots like you.

In my work with our corporate partners, I am reminded every day that a partnership is never simply a logo, campaign, or sponsorship agreement. It is people. It is an employee moved by a student's story, a customer who rounds up a purchase, a leader who rallies a team, or a volunteer who carries this mission home to family and friends. What begins as a corporate relationship often becomes deeply personal and grows into a lasting commitment to the families we serve.

Our partners also do something remarkable: they bring others with them. When a company stands with Folds of Honor, its employees, customers, and communities follow. A single partnership can introduce thousands of new supporters to our scholars and turn a first gift into a lifelong commitment. Generosity, it turns out, is contagious.

This year, we are especially grateful to Arby's Foundation. On Veterans Day, November 11th, Arby's Foundation is matching every donation dollar for dollar up to $100,000. Thank you, Arby's Foundation, for showing what is possible when a brand puts its whole heart behind a mission.

As we head into the final months of 2026, finishing the year strong matters more than ever. Year-end gifts fuel the scholarships our families count on in the semesters ahead, and every gift made now helps us say yes to more spouses and children who are waiting.

Since joining Folds of Honor in December 2019, I have had the privilege of watching corporate partners become friends, advocates, and loyal donors. I am grateful for every person who takes the time to learn about our recipients and then chooses to act. Your commitment carries this mission farther than any one organization could carry it alone.

Thank you for believing in the promise of education and for honoring the legacies of America's fallen or disabled military members and first responders. The opportunities ahead for our families are possible because you chose to be part of their journey.

With gratitude,

Kasey Davis

BACK TO SCHOOL

KAYDN C.

CARTER C.

HAYDEN S.

At Folds of Honor, back to school means more than the start of a new school year. It's also the time when, after months of reviewing thousands of applications, our scholarships team gets to share the news so many students and families have been hoping for.

Every year, we read stories that stay with us. Children who worry about the cost of their education and don't want to place another burden on their families. Students who express their gratitude for the opportunity, promising to work hard and make the most of every dollar. And spouses and children who write about the people they love, sharing stories of their hard work, service and sacrifice, and how they hope to make them proud.

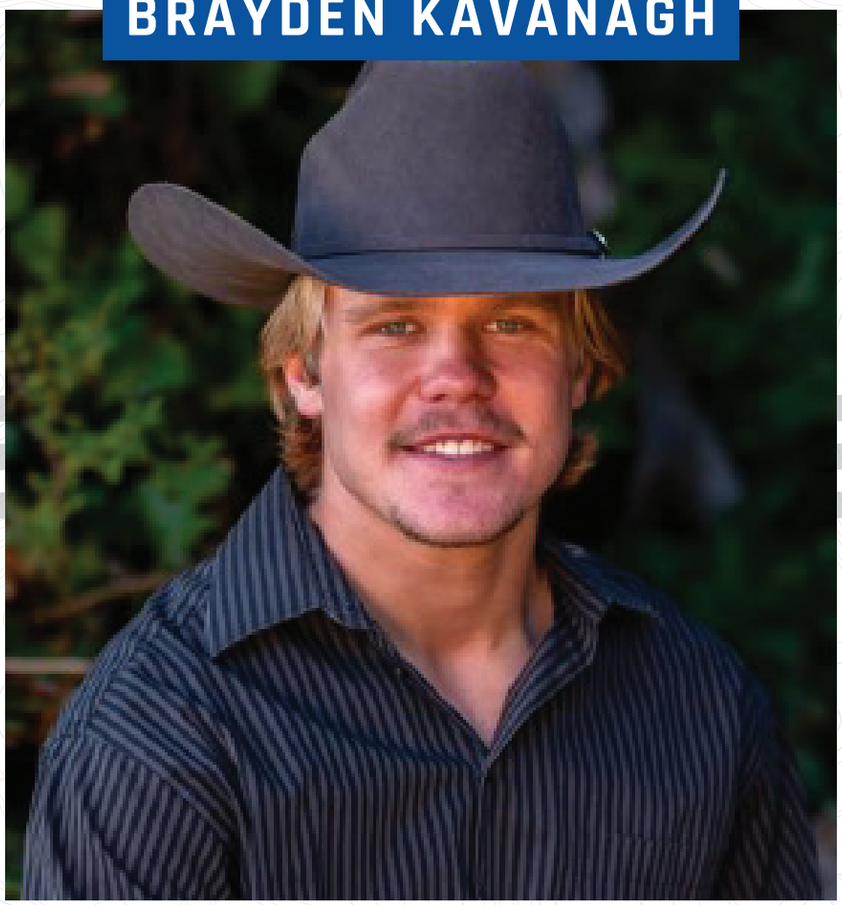

For the 2026-2027 school year, we are excited to announce Folds of Honor has provided over 13,000 scholarships, totaling nearly $60 million in support. This brings our lifetime total to nearly 86,000 scholarships since 2007, totaling nearly $400 million in support for the families of American heroes.

There's so much behind each application, and for many of these families, receiving a scholarship means one less financial worry as they prepare for the school year ahead.

Your generosity makes these moments possible, and we hope you know just how much that means to the families receiving this news.
Thank you for supporting their dreams.

IMPACT STORY

BRAYDEN KAVANAGH

LIEUTENANT COLONEL

BRIAN KAVANAGH

BRAYDEN KAVANAGH

Brayden is studying at Oklahoma State University Institute of Technology to become a NAEDA Agricultural Equipment Technician, preparing for one of the most in-demand trades in the nation. He works as a farmhand in Oklahoma, where he's learned that agriculture, despite its challenges, is incredibly rewarding. He also interns with P&K Equipment alternating between the job site and classes.

Brayden's father, Lieutenant Colonel Brian Kavanagh, is a West Point graduate who served 23 years in the U.S. Army as a Field Artillery Officer, including combat tours in Iraq and Afghanistan and two tours in the Republic of Korea. His decorations include the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star with one Oak Leaf Cluster. Since retiring in 2023, he has continued to serve the Department of Defense as Course Manager for the Joint Operational Fires and Effects Course. Brayden credits his father's service with teaching him the discipline and independence that guide him today.

> "I am truly grateful for the men and women that have made this scholarship possible for me to chase my dreams. My father being in the military has taught me discipline. I learned the ability to follow directions precisely and adequately. I believe this has helped me in my academic career as well."

Some moments in combat stay with you long after you've left the cockpit. Folds of Honor President Col Nick Nichols knows that firsthand. A seven-time combat veteran and former F-16 pilot, Col Nick recently joined Mike Rowe on The Way I Heard It to talk about the realities of deployment, his journey to Folds of Honor and one mission he's never forgotten.

INSPIRING PATRIOT

JIMMY STOBS

Before they ever lead sailors and Marines, the Midshipmen of the U.S. Naval Academy learn what it means to compete with honor, and two coaches are shaping that lesson on the golf course. Head men's golf coach Jimmy Stobs and head women's golf coach Kylee Sullivan are developing future officers who play with the same discipline, composure and teamwork the fleet will one day ask of them. Navy stands alone as the only service academy to send both a men's and a women's team to the Folds of Honor Collegiate, a distinction that reflects the culture these coaches have built in Annapolis. This fall, we are proud to honor them and to announce the 2027 Folds of Honor Collegiate field, which will unquestionably be our strongest yet. When these teams take the course next year, they will play for something bigger than a trophy: the families of America's fallen and disabled heroes, whose futures are built through education.

LOOKING AHEAD

On Tuesday, December 1, we will come together for Giving Tuesday, a global day of generosity, and I hope you will join us. Whether you give, share a recipient's story, or invite your company to get involved, you can help us finish this year strong and carry that momentum into something historic. In 2027, Folds of Honor will celebrate 20 years of service, and we have set our sights on reaching 100,000 scholarships awarded. There is no better way to honor two decades of this mission than to cross that milestone together.
